When You Support LYT You Are . . .

- Helping teach children important life skills like teamwork, cooperation, commitment, and poise under pressure. Children practice as much as an LYT cast member as they would on a sports team, and often more.
- Making acting, music, and dance lessons and preparation affordable to young people. Most theatre companies charge thousands of dollars.
- Keeping local arts and live theatre alive and well in Uptown Lexington.
- Part of an important legacy . . . LYT is one the oldest nonprofit theatre companies in the United States devoted entirely to young people in grades K-12.

The children work hard to put on an amazing show, but they can't make the magic happen alone. The parents can't make it happen alone. LYT as a nonprofit can't make it happen alone.

Thank you for supporting Lexington Youth Theatre! Your advertisement will help enable us to further enhance our mission to promote theatre among the youth of our area! Please keep this copy as your receipt.
